Intro

The purpose of this document is to help the members of the Sing Ireland source sheet music through different options including free downloads, hiring options and places to purchase sheet music.

Sing Ireland has, since its establishment, built up a significant library of over 14,000 pieces of music . Members of Sing Ireland may borrow from the library.

The Sing Ireland also published sheet music and singing manuals under the publisher name Cumann Náisiúnta na gCór. This music is available to purchase at very reasonable prices. The list of publications and other titles available to purchase is given below.

Please contact us for a bulk price if you wish to order a number of copies. Remember, each member of your choir should have an original copy of each piece of music being performed, even if singers 'learn by ear'.

Further information can be found on our website under Resources and Library/Publications

Hire

<https://en.schott-music.com/services/hire-material-requests/>

Schott music hire library contains an extensive range, particularly of contemporary and new music, of works for orchestra and chamber ensemble as well as opera, ballet and musicals available to both professional and amateurs.

Ranging from works for chamber ensemble of eight players and upwards through to large orchestra with choir and soloists, you will find works to suit all combinations of instruments.

www.cymlibrary.org.uk/catalogue-of-music-available

The Community and Youth Music Library [CYML] is a large collection of music sets for use by groups throughout UK. It comprises sets of vocal scores for over 350 major choral works, 700 sets of orchestral parts (including accompaniments for choral works) and more than 1000 wind band sets, as well as opera vocal scores (including Gilbert & Sullivan), and smaller-scale choral works (part-songs, madrigals, anthems etc.).

www.gerontius.net

The gerontius music hire database contains the music libraries of a number of choirs from around the UK. If you're looking for a set of scores to hire, you can search the database to see if a choir has the scores you need. You can then find out how to contact the choir librarian to ask about hiring the scores. There are also some scores available for purchase.

The database currently lists over 9000 sets of scores (July 2011). Sets contain from 1 copy to over 300 copies.

Music PAL helps make music resources in a broad range of libraries throughout Ireland easily accessible to all. The Music PAL scheme includes 16 public, 10 higher education, 3 conservatoire and 6 special libraries throughout the island of Ireland, a total of 35 institutions in all. Many of these hold broad collections of various sizes, while others (such as the Irish Traditional Music Archive and the Contemporary Music Centre) focus on specific musical genres.

The Access Card will allow you to visit and make use of the facilities at any of the libraries that are members of the Music PAL scheme (subject to certain conditions).

Speak to the librarian at your local library and ask about the Music PAL Access Card.

The Choral Public Domain Library (CPDL), is an Internet-based free sheet music website which specializes in choral music.

Begun in December 1998, CPDL is one of the world's largest free sheet music sites. The goal of CPDL is to host a large collection of music scores and other supporting files (such as midi or other sound files) which can be freely downloaded and used. Most of the scores on CPDL are modern editions based on older works whose copyright has lapsed (or which are otherwise in the public domain), but some scores are newly composed and offered for download by the composer.

<http://imslp.org/>

The International Music Score Library Project (IMSLP), is a project for the creation of a virtual library of public domain music scores, based on the wiki principle. Since its launch on February 16, 2006, over 300,000 scores and 35,000 recordings for over 93,000 works by over 12,000 composers have been uploaded. The project uses MediaWiki software to provide contributors with a familiar interface. Since 6 June 2010, IMSLP has also included public domain and licensed recordings in its scope, to allow for study by ear.

<http://www.cipoo.net/>

Choral and vocal enthusiasts will enjoy this large collection sheet music for early, classical, Christmas and traditional works. Features choral music by Arcadelt, Bach, Lotti, Palestrina and many others with lots more on the way. Downloads available in PDF, Noteworthy Composer, and MIDI format. Some MP3 downloads available as well.

<http://www.dlib.indiana.edu/variations/scores/>

This catalogue of music from Indiana University contains scores of all kinds, from opera, to orchestral, choral, piano and more. To download scores, select the category you want, and then when you find the score you want, view the 'larger, scrollable version' of each. This will open your browser into a new window, from which you can scroll through each page of the sheet music. Files are in *.gif format, and you'll need to right click on each image to save each page to your local drive. It's a bit of a process, but the sheet music is good quality, and quite readable.
